

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Full-Stack Developer position. With over eight years of experience building scalable, high-performance web applications using React, TypeScript, and RESTful APIs, I bring strong technical depth along with a proven ability to deliver reliable enterprise solutions.

In 2024, due to a company-wide restructuring following a merger, my role was eliminated. Shortly thereafter, I entered maternity leave and focused on my family during an important life transition. I am now six months postpartum and fully ready to re-engage professionally. During this period, I remained connected to technology by refining my skills, staying updated with modern frontend and full-stack practices, and strengthening my knowledge in areas such as CI/CD workflows, accessibility, and performance optimization.

Throughout my career, I have worked on complex enterprise platforms involving workflow automation systems, RESTful service integrations, cloud-based deployments, and scalable UI architecture. I am particularly strong in React and TypeScript development, backend integration with Node.js and APIs, and building accessible, performant user interfaces that align with business goals.

I am now actively seeking an opportunity where I can contribute immediately, collaborate across teams, and grow within a forward-thinking engineering environment. I bring not only technical capability but also resilience, maturity, and a renewed sense of focus.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my experience and skills can add value to your team.

Sincerely,

Clare Rani Augustine
